

My friends

I have got many friends. Here are portraits of some of them.

Try to match the portraits with the personal characteristics given in the table below. Explain your opinion.

Now check yourself. Read the following descriptions of these people and write their names in the appropriate box depending on their personality.

1. Andy is one of my best friends. He is pleasant, attractive and enthusiastic. He is always willing to talk a lot. Andy feels so good about himself and always expects good things to happen.

2. Ann never seems to do any work. She is always expecting bad things to happen. Ann likes to spend her leisure time reading science literature.
3. Beth is always doing something. She gets very upset if somebody says anything unpleasant to her. When Beth is in love she expresses it in a very beautiful way.
4. Boris is very nervous about meeting and speaking to other people. He prefers to stay alone. In my opinion he is unusual, that's why sometimes it's difficult to explain his behavior.
5. Iren seems to be a different person every day! Sometimes she will be buying presents for everyone and the other times she resents spending even the small amount of money. Iren is always annoyed when she has to wait for a long time.
6. John always makes me feel tired and impatient. He is very unusual and sometimes I can't understand him. He never enjoys the company of many people.
7. Margaret always attracts people attention. She likes to talk a lot. Margo puts a lot of effort into a job and doing it well.
8. Mark says he wants to be a politician one day but I doubt he would have a success in it. Why? Well, for a start he always tells the truth. Secondly, he gets on with everybody and everyone likes him.

Please, describe your friends using these words.
